

Exercise 1: Complete the sentences using the future perfect continuous tense of the verbs in brackets.

1. By next month, they _____ (prepare) for the marathon for six months.
2. By the time you arrive, we _____ (wait) for you for an hour.
3. She _____ (study) English for two years by the end of this semester.
4. By next week, I _____ (work) on this project for three months.
5. They _____ (travel) around the world for a year by the time they return.
6. He _____ (write) the novel for a whole year when he finishes it.
7. By the end of the day, we _____ (sit) in traffic for hours.
8. I'm sure he _____ (practice) the piano all day when the concert starts.
9. By the time the guests arrive, she _____ (decorate) the house for three hours.
10. We _____ (live) in this city for ten years by the time we move to a new place.

Exercise 2: Use the future perfect continuous tense to talk about future actions in progress.

1. (He / work) _____ at the company for twelve hours when he completes the project.
2. (They / study) _____ for the test for two weeks when the exam day comes.
3. (She / cook) _____ dinner for two hours when her family returns home.
4. (I / wait) _____ for my friend for an hour before he arrives.
5. (We / study) _____ for the final exams for a whole month before the vacation starts.

Exercise 3: Fill in the blanks with the correct form of the future perfect continuous tense.

1. By the time the show starts, I _____ (watch) TV for three hours.
2. I'm sure they _____ (play) video games all day when we visit them.
3. By next year, she _____ (study) engineering for five years.
4. We _____ (wait) for the bus for an hour by the time it arrives.
5. They _____ (travel) to different countries for six months when they return home.

Exercise 4: Rewrite the sentences using the future perfect continuous tense.

1. By the end of the month, she will have been preparing for the marathon for six months.
2. They will have been waiting for you for an hour by the time you arrive.

3. He will have been studying English for two years by the end of this semester.
4. By next week, the team will have been working on this project for three months.
5. They will have been traveling around the world for a year by the time they return.

Exercise 5: Use the future perfect continuous tense to make predictions about the future.

1. By the time he comes back, they will have been playing soccer for two hours.
2. I'm sure she will have been studying for the exam all night.
3. By next month, they will have been living in the new house for a year.
4. They will have been dating for five years by their anniversary next week.
5. I believe that they will have been working on the project for a month when it's finished.

Exercise 6: Complete the sentences using the future perfect continuous tense of the verbs in brackets.

By the time you return from your vacation, I _____ (work) on the report for days.

Exercise 7: Choose the correct tense (future perfect continuous or future continuous) to complete the sentences.

1. By the time we arrive, she _____ (wait) for an hour.
2. He _____ (work) at the company for ten years by the end of the month.
3. I'm sure she _____ (paint) all day when the art exhibition opens.
4. They _____ (travel) to different countries for six months by next year.
5. By next summer, she _____ (study) French for five years.

Exercise 8: Fill in the blanks with the correct form of the future perfect continuous tense.

1. By the time the concert starts, they _____ (queue) for two hours.
2. I'm sure he _____ (practice) the guitar all day when the music festival begins.
3. By next week, I _____ (study) for the exam for a whole month.
4. We _____ (wait) at the restaurant for an hour by the time you arrive.
5. They _____ (travel) around the world for six months by next month.

Exercise 9: Rewrite the sentences using the future perfect continuous tense.

1. By the end of the day, they will have been sitting in traffic for hours.

2. She will have been studying English for two years by the end of this semester.
3. They will have been decorating the house for three hours by the time the guests arrive.
4. By next summer, he will have been practicing the violin for a year.
5. I'm sure we will have been waiting for the bus for over an hour when it finally comes.

Exercise 10: Use the future perfect continuous tense to talk about future actions in progress.

1. (He / sleep) _____ for nine hours when the alarm goes off.
2. (They / work) _____ on the project for two weeks when the deadline approaches.
3. (She / cook) _____ dinner for four hours when the family returns home.
4. (I / wait) _____ for my friend for 45 minutes by the time she arrives.
5. (We / study) _____ for the exam for the entire afternoon before the party starts.

Exercise 1: Complete the sentences using the future perfect continuous tense of the verbs in brackets.

1. By next month, they will have been preparing for the marathon for six months.
2. By the time you arrive, we will have been waiting for you for an hour.
3. She will have been studying English for two years by the end of this semester.
4. By next week, I will have been working on this project for three months.
5. They will have been traveling around the world for a year by the time they return.
6. He will have been writing the novel for a whole year when he finishes it.
7. By the end of the day, we will have been sitting in traffic for hours.
8. I'm sure he will have been practicing the piano all day when the concert starts.
9. By the time the guests arrive, she will have been decorating the house for three hours.
10. We will have been living in this city for ten years by the time we move to a new place.

Exercise 2: Use the future perfect continuous tense to talk about future actions in progress.

1. (He / work) He will have been working at the company for twelve hours when he completes the project.
2. (They / study) They will have been studying for the test for two weeks when the exam day comes.
3. (She / cook) She will have been cooking dinner for two hours when her family returns home.
4. (I / wait) I will have been waiting for my friend for an hour before he arrives.
5. (We / study) We will have been studying for the final exams for a whole month before the vacation starts.

Exercise 3: Fill in the blanks with the correct form of the future perfect continuous tense.

1. By the time the show starts, I will have been watching TV for three hours.
2. I'm sure they will have been playing video games all day when we visit them.
3. By next year, she will have been studying engineering for five years.
4. We will have been waiting for the bus for an hour by the time it arrives.
5. They will have been traveling to different countries for six months when they return home.

Exercise 4: Rewrite the sentences using the future perfect continuous tense.

1. By the end of the month, she will have been preparing for the marathon for six months.
2. They will have been waiting for you for an hour by the time you arrive.
3. He will have been studying English for two years by the end of this semester.
4. By next week, the team will have been working on this project for three months.
5. They will have been traveling around the world for a year by the time they return.

Exercise 5: Use the future perfect continuous tense to make predictions about the future.

1. By the time he comes back, they will have been playing soccer for two hours.
2. I'm sure she will have been studying for the exam all night.
3. By next month, they will have been living in the new house for a year.
4. They will have been dating for five years by their anniversary next week.
5. I believe that they will have been working on the project for a month when it's finished.

Exercise 6: Complete the sentences using the future perfect continuous tense of the verbs in brackets.

By the time you return from your vacation, I will have been working on the report for days.

Exercise 7: Choose the correct tense (future perfect continuous or future continuous) to complete the sentences.

1. By the time we arrive, she will have been waiting for an hour.
2. He will have been working at the company for ten years by the end of the month.
3. I'm sure she will have been painting all day when the art exhibition opens.
4. They will have been traveling to different countries for six months by next year.
5. By next summer, she will have been studying French for five years.

Exercise 8: Fill in the blanks with the correct form of the future perfect continuous tense.

1. By the time the concert starts, they will have been queuing for two hours.
2. I'm sure he will have been practicing the guitar all day when the music festival begins.
3. By next week, I will have been studying for the exam for a whole month.
4. We will have been waiting at the restaurant for an hour by the time you arrive.
5. They will have been traveling around the world for six months by next month.

Exercise 9: Rewrite the sentences using the future perfect continuous tense.

1. By the end of the day, they will have been sitting in traffic for hours.
2. She will have been studying English for two years by the end of this semester.
3. They will have been decorating the house for three hours by the time the guests arrive.
4. By next summer, he will have been practicing the violin for a year.
5. I'm sure we will have been waiting for the bus for over an hour when it finally comes.

Exercise 10: Use the future perfect continuous tense to talk about future actions in progress.

1. (He / sleep) He will have been sleeping for nine hours when the alarm goes off.
2. (They / work) They will have been working on the project for two weeks when the deadline approaches.
3. (She / cook) She will have been cooking dinner for four hours when the family returns home.
4. (I / wait) I will have been waiting for my friend for 45 minutes by the time she arrives.
5. (We / study) We will have been studying for the exam for the entire afternoon before the party starts.