

Exercise 1: Fill in the blanks with the future perfect continuous or future perfect simple tense of the verbs in brackets.

1. By next month, she (work) _____ at this company for ten years.
2. They (travel) _____ around the world for a year by the end of this year.
3. By the time you come back, I (wait) _____ for three hours.
4. By next week, he (study) _____ for the exam for five months.
5. I (live) _____ in this city for twenty years by the time I retire.

Exercise 2: Choose the correct tense (future perfect continuous or future perfect simple) to complete the sentences.

1. By the end of the month, they (work) _____ on this project for six months.
2. I'm sure she (study) _____ all night before the final exam.
3. By next year, we (live) _____ in this house for a decade.
4. They (travel) _____ to different countries for six months by next summer.
5. By the time the guests arrive, she (prepare) _____ dinner for two hours.

Exercise 3: Rewrite the sentences using the future perfect continuous tense.

1. By next month, she will have been working at this company for ten years.
2. They will have been traveling around the world for a year by the end of this year.
3. By the time you come back, I will have been waiting for three hours.
4. By next week, he will have been studying for the exam for five months.
5. I will have been living in this city for twenty years by the time I retire.

Exercise 4: Rewrite the sentences using the future perfect simple tense.

1. By next month, she will have worked at this company for ten years.
2. They will have traveled around the world for a year by the end of this year.
3. By the time you come back, I will have waited for three hours.
4. By next week, he will have studied for the exam for five months.
5. I will have lived in this city for twenty years by the time I retire.

Exercise 5: Use the future perfect continuous or future perfect simple tense to make predictions about the future.

1. By the time they arrive, we will have been waiting for two hours.
2. I'm sure he will have been working on the project all day before the deadline.
3. By next month, she will have been studying for the exam for six months.
4. They believe that they will have been traveling to several countries by next year.
5. By the time the movie ends, we will have been watching it for two hours.

Exercise 6: Fill in the blanks with the future perfect continuous or future perfect simple tense.

1. By the end of the year, he (work) _____ at that company for twenty years.
2. I'm sure she (study) _____ all night before the important test.
3. By next year, they (live) _____ in this town for a decade.
4. They (travel) _____ to various countries for a year by next summer.
5. By the time the performance starts, she (practice) _____ for three hours.

Exercise 7: Choose the correct tense (future perfect continuous or future perfect simple) to complete the sentences.

1. By next week, he (work / will have been working) on this project for six months.
2. I'm sure she (study / will have been studying) all night before the final exam.
3. By the time the guests arrive, she (prepare / will have been preparing) dinner for two hours.
4. They (travel / will have been traveling) to different countries for six months by next summer.
5. By the end of the day, we (wait / will have been waiting) for three hours.

Exercise 8: Fill in the blanks with the correct form of the future perfect continuous or future perfect simple tense.

1. By next year, she will have been working at that company for fifteen years.
2. I'm sure they will have been traveling around the world for a year by next summer.
3. By the time you finish the book, I will have been waiting for you for hours.
4. They will have been working on the project for six months by the deadline.
5. By next month, she will have been living in that city for five years.

Exercise 9: Rewrite the sentences using the future perfect continuous tense.

1. By next year, she will have been working at that company for fifteen years.

2. I'm sure they will have been traveling around the world for a year by next summer.
3. By the time you finish the book, I will have been waiting for you for hours.
4. They will have been working on the project for six months by the deadline.
5. By next month, she will have been living in that city for five years.

Exercise 10: Rewrite the sentences using the future perfect simple tense.

1. By next year, she will have worked at that company for fifteen years.
2. I'm sure they will have traveled around the world for a year by next summer.
3. By the time you finish the book, I will have waited for you for hours.
4. They will have worked on the project for six months by the deadline.
5. By next month, she will have lived in that city for five years.

Exercise 1: Fill in the blanks with the future perfect continuous or future perfect simple tense of the verbs in brackets.

1. By next month, she will have been working at this company for ten years.
2. They will have traveled around the world for a year by the end of this year.
3. By the time you come back, I will have been waiting for three hours.
4. By next week, he will have been studying for the exam for five months.
5. I will have lived in this city for twenty years by the time I retire.

Exercise 2: Choose the correct tense (future perfect continuous or future perfect simple) to complete the sentences.

1. By the end of the month, they will have been working on this project for six months.
2. I'm sure she will have studied all night before the final exam.
3. By next year, we will have lived in this house for a decade.
4. They will have traveled to different countries for six months by next summer.
5. By the time the guests arrive, she will have prepared dinner for two hours.

Exercise 3: Rewrite the sentences using the future perfect continuous tense.

1. By next month, she will have been working at this company for ten years.
2. They will have been traveling around the world for a year by the end of this year.
3. By the time you come back, I will have been waiting for three hours.
4. By next week, he will have been studying for the exam for five months.
5. I will have been living in this city for twenty years by the time I retire.

Exercise 4: Rewrite the sentences using the future perfect simple tense.

1. By next month, she will have worked at this company for ten years.
2. They will have traveled around the world for a year by the end of this year.
3. By the time you come back, I will have waited for three hours.
4. By next week, he will have studied for the exam for five months.
5. I will have lived in this city for twenty years by the time I retire.

Exercise 5: Use the future perfect continuous or future perfect simple tense to make predictions about the future.

1. By the time they arrive, we will have been waiting for two hours.
2. I'm sure he will have been working on the project all day before the deadline.
3. By next month, she will have been studying for the exam for six months.

4. They believe that they will have been traveling to several countries by next year.
5. By the time the movie ends, we will have been watching it for two hours.

Exercise 6: Fill in the blanks with the future perfect continuous or future perfect simple tense.

1. By the end of the year, he will have worked at that company for twenty years.
2. I'm sure she will have studied all night before the important test.
3. By next year, they will have lived in this town for a decade.
4. They will have traveled to various countries for a year by next summer.
5. By the time the performance starts, she will have practiced for three hours.

Exercise 7: Choose the correct tense (future perfect continuous or future perfect simple) to complete the sentences.

1. By next week, he will have been working on this project for six months.
2. I'm sure she will have been studying all night before the final exam.
3. By the time the guests arrive, she will have been preparing dinner for two hours.
4. They will have been traveling to different countries for six months by next summer.
5. By the end of the day, we will have been waiting for three hours.

Exercise 8: Fill in the blanks with the correct form of the future perfect continuous or future perfect simple tense.

1. By next year, she will have been working at that company for fifteen years.
2. I'm sure they will have been traveling around the world for a year by next summer.
3. By the time you finish the book, I will have been waiting for you for hours.
4. They will have been working on the project for six months by the deadline.
5. By next month, she will have been living in that city for five years.

Exercise 9: Rewrite the sentences using the future perfect continuous tense.

1. By next year, she will have been working at that company for fifteen years.
2. I'm sure they will have been traveling around the world for a year by next summer.
3. By the time you finish the book, I will have been waiting for you for hours.
4. They will have been working on the project for six months by the deadline.
5. By next month, she will have been living in that city for five years.

Exercise 10: Rewrite the sentences using the future perfect simple tense.

1. By next year, she will have worked at that company for fifteen years.
2. I'm sure they will have traveled around the world for a year by next summer.
3. By the time you finish the book, I will have waited for you for hours.
4. They will have worked on the project for six months by the deadline.
5. By next month, she will have lived in that city for five years.